DEDICATION TO PEACE

THERE WILL BE PEACE ON EARTH

When everyone is free from dissension and strife,
When everyone can see how they're living in life,
When people have learned not to fight,
When people have seen the light,
When there are no more wars,
When fighting no longer solves the cause,
When there are no more problems between races,
When we disregard the color of other people's faces,
When the world is full of happiness and mirth,
Then there will be Peace on Earth!

—Valerie Edwards

Peace is for people around the world,
Peace is for every boy and girl,
Peace is made by love and care,
Peace is for people everywhere.
Peace is where calm waters flow,
Peace should be wherever you go,
Peace is made by sweet pure love,
That can only be made by God above.

—Gloria Hawkins

PEACE IS

Peace is: When men and women can walk up and down the street without fear.

Peace is: When there are no wars going on anywhere.

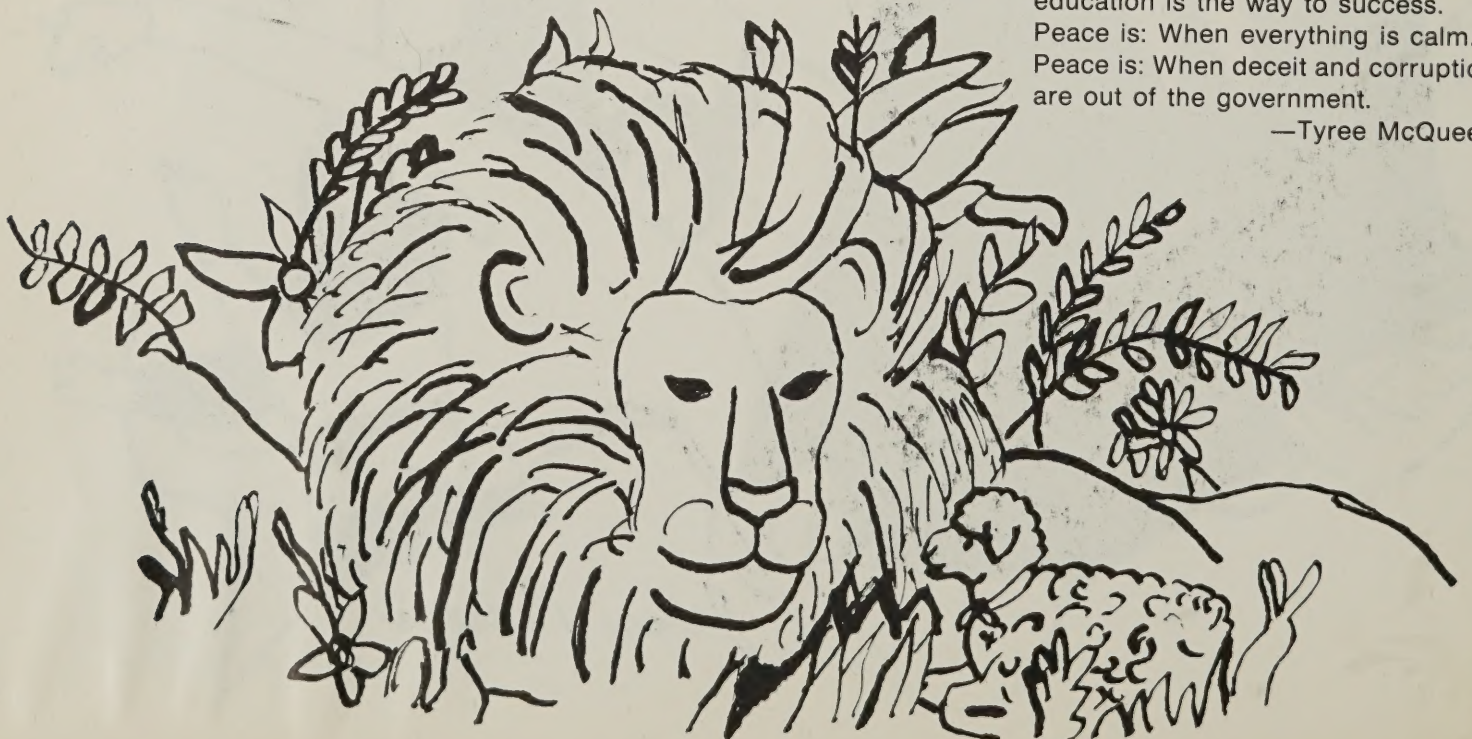

Peace is: When the energy crisis is over.

Peace is: When the Blacks learn that education is the way to success.

Peace is: When everything is calm.

Peace is: When deceit and corruption are out of the government.

FOREWORD

"Everyone who got where he is had to begin where he was." In pondering over this statement and considering its personal implications and ramifications, very pertinent questions arise. Thus, in-depth decision-making takes top priority. Where am I now? Where do I go from here? How far do I wish to go? What are my aspirations? What course should I choose to fulfill my life's ambitions? The forthcoming answers should be governed by a personal code of ethics which incorporates values that many in today's top echelon have mouthed but failed to practice.

In watching history unfold before us and witnessing those in high places succumb one after another to the pitfalls of corruption and other acts of immorality, there are those who cry out, "Where are our priorities?" Does the slogan "greatness at any cost" premeditate the climb up the mythological ladder of success? Does a "respect my position regardless of how I attained it" attitude dominate the scene today?

At this point in time, the responsibility of restoring and bringing to the forefront those human values that seem to have become myths in today's scheme of things must fall upon upright, strong, steadfast, unwavering shoulders.

As we start where we are and progress to the height of our potential, we must decide to emphasize and project those high moral values that are necessary to make this world a better place for us and ours . . . for you and yours. We are determined to place our priorities in their proper perspective. The responsibility is ours. We rise to accept the challenge!

ADMINISTRATION

ANTHONY G. COPPOLA, PRINCIPAL

What's It All About?

The origin and purpose of life remain a mystery, despite the best efforts of philosophers and scientists, theologians and psychologists, poets and pragmatists. I, for one, hope that the mystery will remain so that every individual can continue to seek his own goals, his own values, his own priorities.

Does this seem rather heavy stuff for a junior high graduate? Would you get the idea faster if I used the popular phrase, "Doing your own thing"?

A good education will help you discover what this means to you in terms of personal objectives, ideals, life-style. The more you learn, the more you will realize that your talents and energy must be devoted not only to self-fulfillment, but also to improving the lot of all human beings.

Congratulations on having taken this first step on what I trust will be a long, useful, and happy life.

CHARLOTTE C. FASSBENDER, VICE PRINCIPAL

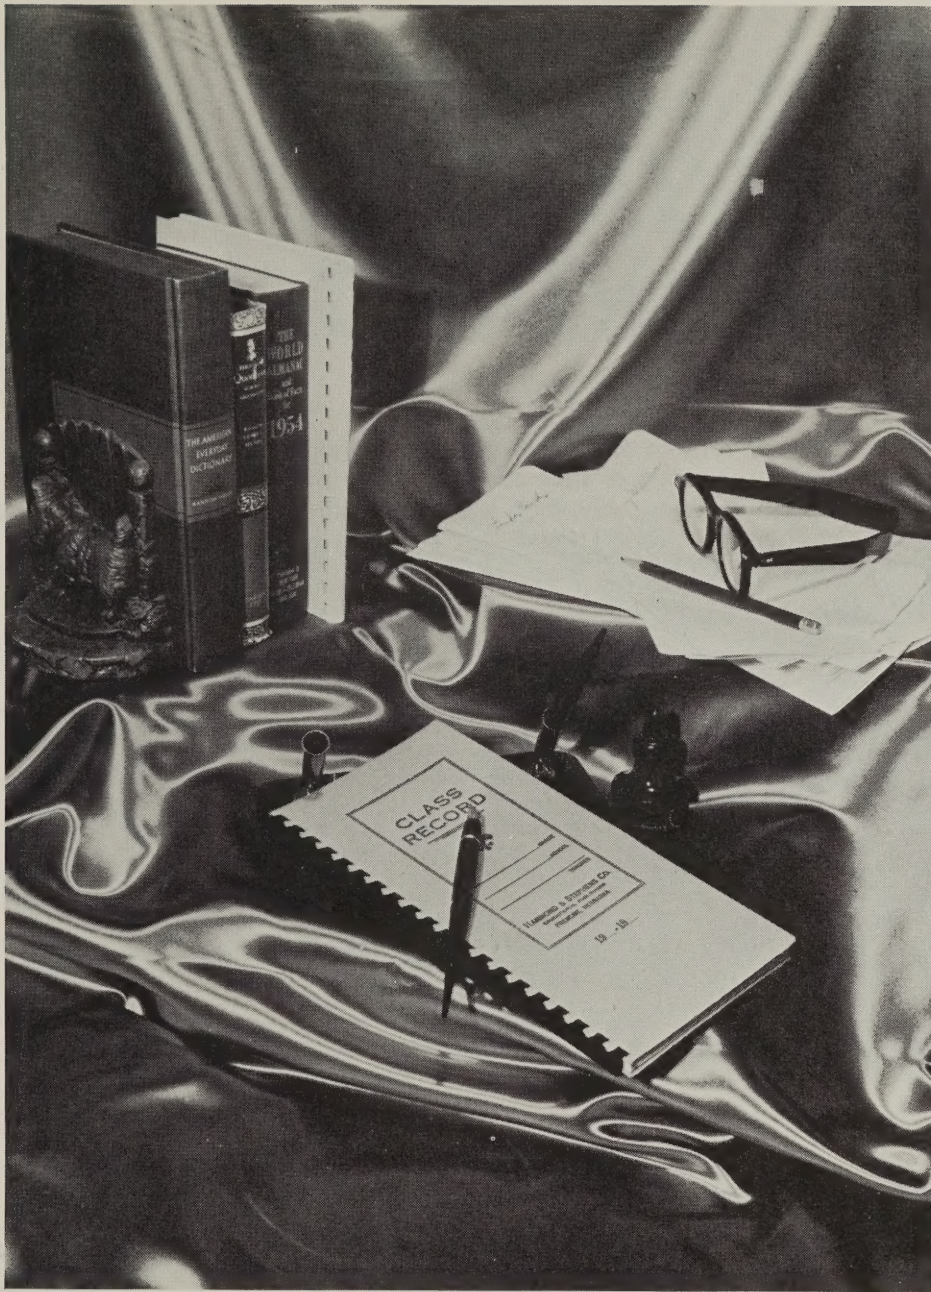

CHARLES R. NOLLEY, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

TO THE JUNE 1974 GRADUATES:

Your talents and abilities are as diversified as the number of members in the class, but there is one thing that I hope all of you will always exhibit to the fullest, that is to consider the feelings and the needs of everyone with whom you come in contact. The rewards you will reap will be many, not the least of which will be your feeling of building a better life both for yourself and others.

What does the future hold for today's young person? Today the future can be a glittering road leading to a wonderland of opportunity. An opportunity-laden wonderland, where one can finally realize some of the better things life offers. To travel this road we can be well served by adhering to certain constant values. Let us be determined, courageous, industrious, proud, and prepared. Let us prepare ourselves academically, physically, and emotionally so that we may, with confidence, cope with what lies ahead. If we do this, rest assured, that the best is yet to come!

FACULTY

COUNSELING STAFF

TO THE CLASS OF 1974

Almost ten years ago, it was my good fortune to be the grade counselor for an exceptionally fine graduating class. I didn't expect to see another group of such caliber again. However, I must admit that the graduating class of 1974 compares favorably in every way, high academic achievement, citizenship, school service, and attendance.

You are a credit to our school and our city. We will miss you.
Best wishes from the entire Guidance Department.

ROBERT A. CARPIANO

SCHOOL NURSE

Our school nurse, Mrs. Jane Samuels, is a new addition to our staff. In addition to her many duties, the most important one is to provide health care for our students.

For recreation and as a mind building exercise, chess is matched by no other game. This is evidenced by the intense concentration of our young players who become locked in mental battle at each club meeting. Sponsor: Mr. Brewer.

NEWSPAPER

A chance for publication of students' work is allowed for in the school newspaper. Within the five issues, the staff of the school paper tries to touch upon the following: (1) school life, (2) community and world affairs, (3) entertainment, (4) sports and (5) personal opinion. CLASS PROPHECY

It is now 1984, and the Class of 1974 is having its reunion at the FABULOUS SWAN'S BEL AIR HOTEL which was designed by the world's prominent architects, VALERIE EDWARDS and DARRYL McDOUGAL. This S-shaped banquet room was elegantly decorated by the renowned interior decorators LOIS LIGGINS and VERONICA DANIELS.

Making the last minute preparations is dietitian WANDA BOLER. Arriving early to assist Wanda in greeting the former classmates is that outstanding mechanic, WALTER BROWN, owner and operator of Quick Service Auto Repair Shop.

Seated at the head table are former Student Council President SHEILA HOOPER, who is president of and famous model for Hooper's Modeling School; TYREE McQUEEN and JOSEPH MASSENBURG, partners in the NOW PSYCHIATRIC TREATMENT CENTER; and one of their patients, SHIRLEY CARTER.

Near the A Shaped stage IDA SCOTT, consultant for Glamour Cosmetic Company, and Beverly Gray, proprietress of La Gray Beauty Salon in Paris, are trying to get NORMA CHARLES, the famous Ballet teacher who also resides in Paris, France, to perform for the group.

Standing on one side of the room, HENRY POOLE, BARRY JOHNSON, DARRYL GERMANY, and OLIVER COBB, Law partners, are trying to convince KENNETH PINCKNEY, an outstanding player for the N.Y. Knicks, to let them handle his legal affairs. Walking towards this group is INELL JONES, a successful Defense Lawyer, who has already persuaded CARLTON CLARK and QUINNIE WILLIAMS, former teammates of Kenneth, to obtain her to defend them in a Breach of Contract suit. Holding their own conversations, but staying close to their bosses are secretaries PATRICIA DAYE and JENNIFER JONES.

Seated at a table discussing the latest in Medical Technique are NINA LYNN and SHARON BOWDEN, the world's greatest pediatricians, and SABRINA POPE, medical director of Pope's Children's Hospital. Making their way through the crowded ballroom are those fashion models CHRISTINE BRYDIE, JANICE PRATT, EDWARD JASPER, and DARYL LAMPLEY with designer CORNELL BRANTLEY. Among the crowd, EARL WILLIAMS and WILLIAM HOLLOWAY, prize fighters, are seen with their nurses CRYSTAL WILLIS and PAMELA HILLIARD.

Reminiscing about days at Seventh Avenue are GLORIA HAWKINS, an outstanding podiatrist in Germany, and EILEEN JACKSON, a novelist who has been chosen "Writer of the World."

SANDRA SUGGS, who is now appearing in a piano concert at Carnegie Hall, was persuaded by the Veterinarian for Ringling Brothers, DARYL DeWITT, to perform for the group.

TARA DENSON, ANDREWNETT WALKER, and VANESSA WILSON, Models for Ebony Magazine, have just rushed in followed by JAMES PEARSON, the famous artist, who has just painted a mural for the wall of the East Room in the White House. Mr. Pearson is also a pilot for Pearson's Airlines. Stewardesses aboard were EVELYN HENRY and VIRGINIA CARTER.

LOIS LIGGINS, an English teacher at the University of Montreal, is trying to get the attention of VALERIE WILSON, MELVINA JONES, and DWAYNE DAWSON, all News Reporters for United Press International.

The program is about to begin, but look, here comes an uninvited guest who is trying to find the "Fountain of Youth", former Student Council Advisor, MR. RALPH BREWER!

As this festive occasion begins, we can say, "THE CLASS OF 1974 has found its priorities."
